TO THE TIMES ONLY.

J. W. Webb Convicted of Murder at the Brandon Assizes and Sentenced to Hang.

Losses in the Winnipeg Fire—Years of Savings go up in Smoke—Sham Battle.

Special to the TIMES.]

Winnipeg, Nov. 15—The debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne, closed in the Legislature on Tuesday and an adjournment was made to Friday.

All the city butchers are heavy losers by yesterday morning's fire at the Market as they had put in a supply of Thanksgiving meats. The total loss aggregates $27,000. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Warden Bedron, of the provincial penitentiary has disposed of his herd of tame buffalo to C. J. Jones, a wealthy rancher of Kansas. The entire herd, consisting of 83 head, will be taken in stock cars to Kansas in a few days.

Port Arthur, Nov. 15—The navigation season is drawing near a close. The Empire expects to make one more round trip and the C. P. R. steamers hope, weather permitting, to make two more. The fall has been exceptionally favorable.

Winnipeg, Nov. 16—Thanksgiving day was duly observed here yesterday.

Red River is now frozen over and many hundred skaters were on the ice yesterday.

The Stony Mountain herd of buffalo will be shipped to Kansas Saturday.

Brandon, Nov. 16—At the assizes here yesterday J. W. Webb was sentenced to be hanged on December 28th for the murder of his wife in August. The prisoner made a full confession to the court.

FROM OTTAWA.

Shamfight—The Soo Contract—Disappointed Mormons.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Warkworth, Nov. 15—At the nomination meeting of candidates to contest the riding of East Northumberland, for the House of Commons, A. E. Mallory, ex-M. P. of Warkworth, Liberal, and Edward Cochrane, ex-M. P. of Brighton, Conservative, were the candidates put in the field.

Ottawa, Nov. 15—Ryan & Haney have not secured the "Soo" canal contract as annouced. Hon. Mr. Pope is in favor of Ryan's tender, but it is not the lowest. The lowest tender certainly is good in Ottawa, and among those lower than Ryan & Haney is James Conmee, M. P. It is said that new tenders will be called for. The Government are besieged with contractors and politicians.

Justice Barbidge will not go to British Columbia until next spring.

The fifth call of five per cent. has been been made by the Empire on its shareholders.

Cobourg, Nov. 15—At a meeting of the Senate of Victoria University, a motion was passed against the proposed federation scheme, and it is now believed to be dead.

Norwich, Nov. 15—The elopement of Mrs. Kenny of this place with her brother-in-law, John Venner, has been frustrated. Yesterday Mrs. Kenny disappeared with her two children and her clothes, and Kenny during an investigation discovered that his wife had arranged to meet Venner in Montreal and sail with him to England. He learned also that Venner's trunk contained a part of Mrs Kenny's wardrobe and he had him arrested. He will be tried to-morrow.

Toronto, Nov. 16—Mr. and Mrs. Gobe, who reside near Kingston, banked their savings amounting to $900 in an old stocking hiding it under the bed. Their children transferred the stocking to an empty stove and when the first fire of the season was lighted the accumulations of years went up in smoke.

The Senate of the Toronto University has applied the Blake scholarship to the department of political science.

The shamfight between the Queen's Own and the Royal Grenadiers at High Park was witnessed by over 8000 people.

Ottawa, Nov. 16—The Soo Canal contract still remains unsettled owing to the determined stand made by the tenderers lower than Ryan by Haney, but so far not signed.

The Mormon delegates from the Northwest Territory are dissatisfied with the result of their visit to Ottawa. The Government will not grant their request to be allowed to bring in machinery and implements free of duty or to be permitted to bring in more women to whom they had been previously married according to Mormon custom.

Kingston, Nov. 16—Miss Macdonald, Sir John's sister, is a little better. She has been an invalid for years.

QUEBEC AND NEW BRUNSWICK

Strange Freak of a Suicide—Death of Thos. Devine, F. R. G. S.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Montreal, Nov. 15—Father Chiniquy lectured here Tuesday night, but there was no disturbance, as threatened. Students tried to stir up a row but were dispersed by the police.

St. Andrews, N. B., Nov. 16—James Trake, aged 75 years, a resident of Charlotte county, disappeared three weeks ago and when found his dead body was lying uncovered in a coffin in the bottom of a grave which he seems to have prepared himself. Several phials, supposed to contain poison, were found in the coffin and it is supposed he died from poisoning. He was of unsound mind.

Montreal, Nov. 16—Thos. Devine, F. R. G. S., late deputy surveyor general for Ontario, died here last night.

THREATS TO MURDER.

Conclusion of Wednesday's Evidence in Dr. Griffin's Case.

The following is the conclusion of witness Atherton's evidence taken in cross examination by Mr. Walker, on Wednesday:

To Mr. Walker.—I am a searcher of records and I make it my business to compare handwriting. The "Mr." is in Dr. Griffin's writing. When Dr. Griffin was running the Southern Pacific Land Bureau the bonds and contracts came into my possession. I have seen Dr. Griffin write like that hundreds of times. I have compared the handwriting with other letters four or five days ago; the papers came out of Dr. Griffin's pocket with which I compared the handwriting; the headlines of an article in the Social World were "marked out." I called a boy that worked in the office by the name of "Jimmy." I recognize the letter produced; I posted it; when I post a letter I read the address carefully; Dr. Griffin gave me the letter at the Windsor Hotel; I was driving for Mr. Sehl at the time; I did not think my services were required by Mr. Sehl any longer so I left; I did not see Dr. Griffin address the letter produced; I don't know enough Spanish to speak it; I know the word "vamonos;" it means vamoose or get out. I wrote the letter produced in the parlor of the hotel; I am sorry to say I know nothing about Greek; I think all the letters with the black hand were written by the same person; I am a pretty good friend with Dr. Griffin; we had no quarrel; I intended that if Dr. Griffin did not stop bothering me I would bother him; I saw Dr. Griffin's name on several occasions; I found that wherever I went Dr. Griffin appeared and said he was my friend; that was detrimental to me; I told Mr. Macdonald of the Windsor Hotel that I would get even with Dr. Griffin; I was one of his boodsmen in Los Angeles; I traced the map produced from another copy; I don't know Mr. Howard; I am not much acquainted with printer's work. From my knowledge of Dr. Griffin's handwriting, I believe these anonymous letters to be his; I had occasion to need some of Dr. Griffin's writing in Los Angelos; I recognize the letter produced; it is in Dr. Griffin's handwriting; I know it by the ink and letter "e," (looking at the letter again) it might be the letter "e;" the next letter you produce is not in Dr. Griffin's handwriting.

To Mr. Taylor—I have seen Dr. Griffin write in different hands; I believe he said he could write in nine different hands.

To the Court—I was brought up in the States; I became acquainted with Dr. Griffin in 1887; he was selling smoke balls then; he closed up that and went into the Dry Sparkling Champagne Co.; he then went into the land bureau; I was engaged in straightening out some crookedness of his at Los Angeles; I became his bondsman; I will have to pay it; a civil action was taken against me; I came up here before the action was taken; I have had a charge of perjury against me since I left Los Angeles; I became surety for the amount and the land boom burst; when I gave the bonds I was qualified in giving it; I was prosecuted for not having land of value that I swore to; I arrived here in June and went into the Social World. Sometimes he gave me fifty cents; I worked two months and received $5; I expected to receive pay when Dr. Griffin sold his coal lands; I cannot return to my home until I pay the amount and I supposed a man in his position would return the money to me when he disposed of the coal land; on the advice of my attorney I swore on the bonds that I was worth $2,500; land decreased in value and I was prosecuted.

His Honor adjourned the case until Saturday.

AN APOLOGY.

An Unfortunate and Unaccountable Error—Mr. Faristine Exonerated.

An item of local news appeared in Monday's TIMES in reference to the strange conduct of a gentleman named John M. Lowrie, of Birtle, Man., who while temporarily deranged came to Victoria, with a considerable sum of money in his possession. The article stated that on arriving in Victoria he met a barber named Faristine, and concluded with insinuations which undoubtedly were serious reflections upon the latter gentleman's character. We have been assured by gentlemen in this city who knew Mr. Faristine for many years in Winnipeg, where he still resides, that he is an honorable man, and from other sources we learn that the statements referred to were wholly untrue. We sincerely regret the error, and desire to correct the wrong that has been done. The information upon which the article was based was thought at the moment to be reliable and as Mr. Faristine was and still is an entire stranger to us, and for that matter to Victoria, we unfortunately but unintentionally did him a great injustice. This explanation is due alike to Mr. Faristine and to ourselves, and the apology which, under such circumstances, is incumbent upon us is freely and fully offered. Those who know Mr. Faristine, we are glad to say, were not misled by the unfounded story which found its way into the press. It is our wish that this retraction may receive the same publicity as the original.

THE THEATRE

Annie Firmin and the B. C. B. Society Benefit Last Night.

This charming actress, as well as Mr. John Jack, scored an immense and decided hit last night in the varied entertainment given in aid of the above excellent charity. It is seldom that so excellent a programme is given our play pratonizers now-a-days, and after two hours of solid enjoyment it is difficult to realize that we have seen so much and had so many varied scenes and characterizations presented and by such a limited number of performers. It only proves the lady and gentleman to be not only artists of the first order but also gifted with very extraordinary versatility. English comedy in "School for Scandal" showed high art. In Romeo and Juliet there was sweet singing with much culture. In her ballads Miss Firmin fairly outdid herself in her various impersonations. In "Fun on a Ranch" young Master Arthur deserves much credit for his singing "I'm a Dude." The affair was a success and the Society is to be congratulated.

A Modern Zacheus.

A curious fact leaked out relative to Moody's labors in Port Townsend and Victoria, and that is that Chet Terry, Gardner's old-time partner, who was converted in this city, has deeded to Moody land in Port Townsend valued at over $3000, which Moody is instructed to turn over to the government. This conscience money is supposed to offset Terry's gains while connected with the Gardner ring. This story is authenticated by a Christian lady closely connected wity the Terry family, by one of whom it was told. It is also corroborated by Mr. Moody, who said at one of his meetings: "One of your papers here said a man in Victoria had 'gone mad' because he was converted and desired to make restitution to the government of all he had swindled it out of. The man placed two lots in my hands, and I am to sell them and turn the proceeds over to the government. So you call that 'going mad?' Would to God we had 500 more madmen like that one!" As Mr. Moody says, it is a pity there are not more Zacheuses.

A Clerk and $10,000 Missing.

Fred E. Simpson, night clerk of the Northern Pacific Express Company at Tacoma, is missing, and so is a $10,000 express package that was passing through the office consigned to Snipes & Co.'s bank at Ellensburg.

Complications Between Peru and U. S.—Gales in Great Britain—Lost Vessel.

New York, Nov. 16—The Star is authority for the statement this morning that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is pushing the construction of its line westward from London, Ont., toward Komoka with, it is believed, the ultimate intention of entering Detroit. In the meantime it is surmised that the Canadian Pacific may ultimately buy the Grand Trunk line from Komoka to Detroit.

STRIKE ENDED.

The strike on the Brooklyn street car lines was declared at an end at one o'clock this morning. It is said that both sides have made concessions.

ADMISSION OF THE TERRITORIES.

San Francisco, Nov. 16—The Examiner (Democrat) in an editorial this morning headed, "Let them come in," says: "One of the duties that Congress cannot put off much longer is the admission of most of the remaining territories as states. The matter has been treated from a political point of view too long. It is a simple question of justice and no other consideration should have any weight. It is time to consider whether we may not at once get rid of almost our whole territorial system. Washington, Dakota, Montana, New Mexico, Arizona, Wyoming and Idaho, have at least 10,000 inhabitants each, and they have resources which make it certain that they will not be rotton boroughs.

HARRINGTON'S TRIAL.

London, Nov. 16—Tim Harrington, M. P. for West Kerry, who was summoned for advocating boycotting, will be tried Nov. 26th.

JOHN BRIGHT IMPROVING.

John Bright is slightly better. The congestion decreased and temperature normal.

SUPPOSED TO BE LOST.

Bombay, Nov. 16—The Vaitairna coasting vessel from Cutch bound for this port is long over due and has not been heard from since she sailed. She had nine hundred native passengers on board and it is feared the ship foundered in the recent hurricane and all are lost.

THE PARNELL COMMISSION.

London, Nov. 16—At the Parnell commission to-day was Lady Mount Morris, whose husband, Lord Mount Morris, was murdered at Clonbar, county Galway, in 1880. Lady Mount Morris testified that friendly feeling existed between her husband and tenants on Eber Hall estates at Clonbar until the Land League began to hold meetings there. In July, 1880, her husband obtained a writ of ejectment against a tenant in the following September. While witness was in Scotland her husband was shot. She went to Ireland to attend the funeral and she heard the men refused to assist in putting the coffin in the hearse. Witness left Eber Hall in October. While on the way to the steamer people laughed at her and stones were thrown at her eight-year old son and her husband received threatening notices only after the League meetings had been held. Sir Chas. Russell was proceeding to cross-examine Lady Mount Morris when the witness fainted. Sir Charles thereupon would not proceed any further in the cross-examination.

PERUVIAN COMPLICATIONS.

Washington, Nov. 16—Assistant Secretary of State Rivers says that the Department has received no further information regarding the Peruvian complications at Mollendo. He is of opinion that it will not amount to very much, and thought the United States legation there were of the same opinion, or they would have cabled. Further news is expected by letter.

MURDERER BURIED.

Annville, Pa., Nov. 16—The body of murderer Showers, who was hanged at Lebanon for killing his two grandchildren, was brought into town late last night and immediately taken to the grave, followed by a jeering mob of old neighbors, and buried by the light of lanters by the side of his victims. There were no mourners and no ceremonies. The crowd threw stones at the coffin.

MURDERER ACQUITTED.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 16—The second trial of J. E. Alexander, book-keeper, who shot and killed Louis S. Cravens, March 6th last, during a quarrel, resulted in Alexander's acquittal last night.

SHOT HIS FIANCEE.

Waterloo, Ia., Nov. 16—At Hawleyville last night, Stephen Franks shot his fiancee, Miss Carrie Love, because she refused to consent to a speedy marriage; Franks then shot himself; both are seriously though believed not fatally wounded.

AFTER THE LYNCHERS.

Ozark, Mo., Nov. 16—The lynching of the five witnesses against Dave Walker, the leader of the Baldknobbers, yesterday has created a reign of terror throughout the country. Sheriff Williams has gone to the scene of the murders with a large posse of men and says he will hunt down the perpetrators of the deed if it is possible.

ROUGH WEATHER DOES BIG DAMAGE.

London, Nov. 16—Violent gales are reported along the west coast of Great Britain; numerous wrecks having occurred at Glasgow. During the hurricane here the dome of the exposition building was demolished and the ladies' industrial department was completely wrecked.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Mrs. J. Gould spent a very quiet night and her condition this morning is much improved.

Van Matthews and J. C. Woodruff, two well known citizens at Bayou Sara, La., had a fight yesterday morning over a land purchase. Matthews was killed and Woodruff is dying.

New York physicians, who examined James P. Dougherty, the persecutor of Mary Anderson, the actress, pronounce him insane and he will be taken to an asylum.

Portugal, on the invitation of Great Britain and Germany, will send vessels to take part in the blockade of East African ports.

Rear Admiral Baldwin, New York, is dying.

—The audience of Col. Wodford filled the Methodist Church last night.

SPORTING NOTES.

Several Interesting Football Contests Yesterday—Aquatics, &c.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Paris, Ont., Nov. 17—The intermediate championship was won by the Young Torontos, defeating the Dufferins and Ingersoll and Niagaras of Niagara Falls.

AQUATIC.

Boat Builder Blakey has sent a new boat to Oarsman William O'Connor, at Washington, to be used in the O'Connor-Teemer race by the Toronto man. She is 30 feet long, 11¼ inches beam, 5⅝ inches deep in centre, 2¾ inches deep in bow, 2 inches deep in the stern. She weighs, all rigged, exactly 30½ pounds.

WRESTLING MATCH.

The challenge issued by D. H. Cameron, of New Westminster, to John Smith, of Nanaimo, for a second contest at Greco-Roman wrestling has been accepted, and the match will take place on Saturday evening, 24th inst., in Philharmonic Hall, this city. The stakes are $250 a side, the Colonist office being stakeholders. At the recent match in Vancouver Cameron thought he was not fairly defeated.

THE NANAIMO MATCH.

TO THE SPORTING EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—As a member of the Victoria Football Club, I am naturally anxious that our fifteen should win in their matches, and as it cannot be said that they have been successful so far, I would like to make a few, and what appears to me, practical remarks on their play. In the first place it is very apparent that if the team desire to save themselves from any more ignominious defeats (for no other term can be applied to the result of yesterday's match) they will have to select a better man to play full-back. The man playing in that place yesterday did not collar or in fact attempt to collar any one of his opponents; he simply half turned his back on him and tried to shove him with his shoulder, not endeavoring to throw his arms about him at all; whether it was the bad ground or not, I cannot say, but it can hardly be put down to that, as he was very nearly as bad in the previous matches. The man who passed him all the time was not at all difficult to collar, as was evidenced by his being stopped in a proper manner several times by the three-quarters. In the next place, before the team play any more foreign matches, they should obtain men who are Rugby players, active, having all their wits about them, and fast for their three-quarters. In writing the above I am not in any way prejudiced by personal motives, but am very desirous that the Victoria football team should become what the lacrosse, baseball and cricket teams have become, viz: the champions of the province. Yours, etc.,

A MEMBER OF THE FOOTBALL CLUB.

JUNIOR ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

Corrig School versus Christ Church Cathedral Choir Boys.

A match between the above teams was played on Beacon Hill yesterday (Thursday) afternoon, resulting in a victory for Corrig School by two goals. The school boys, who had the advantage of having the wind with them during the first half of the game secured three goals, one being kicked by Musgrave, the other two by Spring. McDonald and Green also distinguished themselves during the game. The choir boys were somewhat startled at the huge proportions of some of their opponents, but notwithstanding their inferior physical strength they played with a determination which surprised many of the interested spectators. The second half of the game was decidedly in their favor; and five minutes before time was called Gabriel placed one goal to their credit. Buckett, Martin, R. Johnson and P. Johnson also did some good work for their their teams. Following was the personel of the respective teams: Corrig School—Forwards, Spring, McDonald, Pemberton, Brenton; half backs, Musgrave, Wilson, Jorand, R. Green; backs, Palmer, F. Green; goal, Baxter. Cathedral Choir—Forwards, Walky, Gabriel, Buckett, P. Johnston, Tyte; half back, Kurtz, Fawcett, Carter, Martin; back, R. Johnston; goal, P Johnston.

ASSOCIATON FOOTBALL.

A large number of our lacrosse players and others interested in Association football met yesterday on Beacon Hill. Teams were chosen captained by D. W. Morrow and D. W. Clarke, and a very interesting game was played of about two hours duration. At the start it was evident that Morrow's team meant business, for they soon had the ball well on their opponent's goal, but the backs were too many for them. Indeed, time and again did the defense of Clarke's team do yeoman service for their side and it was only by very hard play of about 85 minutes duration that Morrow's side secured a goal. This reverse seemed to start up Clarke's men and things looked ugly for Morrow's side for about 15 minutes until a good combined run by Cox, Morrow and Stark, relieved the pressure. Two corner kicks were awarded to Morrow's team which were entrusted to Brown. The first was of no avail but the second being well placed was sent flying through the goal like lightning. Shortly afterwards halftime was called with Morrow's team two goals to the good. The second half was a repetition of the first, the two Clarkes, for the Clarke team, being conspicuous by their combined play and making it hot for the defence of Morrow's team, several times within an ace of scoring. It is impossible to single out many of the players, as many of them were strangers to the reporter excepting the lacrosse men who all seem to have a wonderful adaptability for this game; but there were several splendid players who evidently knew the game and have played before. The game ended in favor of Morrow's team by four goals to none. This result does not by any means show the game for it was very even. A good deal of disputing took place about hands. Many of the players were entirely ignorant of what constituted a fowl and thus caused considerable dispute, but all in the most friendly manner. Yesterday's game shows that the association game has a large number of supporters in Victoria and that a good club could be formed. There is plenty of room for both Rugby and Association teams. There will be another game on Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. All association players are cordially invited to take part, and also those desirous of learning the game. It is hoped that a large number will turn out.

A TOURIST HOTEL.

The want of a summer hotel to meet the increased demand for accommodation of the tourists who visit the city was quite apparent during the past season. The improved facilities of travel, and the world-wide fame of Victoria and its surroundings, will attract a steady and constant flow of pleasure-seekers to our shores. Tourists are of incalculable benefit to the prosperity of the city in a great number of ways besides the money spent during the visit. Strangers may be attracted to a place for pleasure, and then be induced to invest capital in enterprises. The destiny of Victoria is not to become the Baden of the Pacific coast; its aims are something higher. The benefits from a transient tourist trade would indeed be of little value if we did not attain something more substantial. In order to attract the roving stream of sight-seers we must be prepared to furnish ample accommodations and at the same time comfortable and convenient quarters for the accommodation of families, so that a lengthened visit, beyond that of a few days, may be looked for. By this means our visitors would become attached to a residence here, and would have more time and leisure to devote in examining into the natural advantages of the country. Many of those who come for a hurried visit would be induced to cast their lot with us. We possess every attraction in the gift of nature for both the sight-seer and those seeking for an investment for capital. It is our duty to bring these to the notice of the outside world, and when they do come to look at us, to offer every inducement to have them, if possible, identified with the interests of the country. First, we should have a palatial hotel, built on the lines of every modern improvement and possessing all accessories to make a long visit enjoyable and desirable. It is understood that our leading hotel men would be in no way averse to the building of such an establishment. The present city hotel accommodation, excellent of its kind, is only sufficient to meet the requirements of the business and commercial travelling public, which is also daily on the increase. The capital required for the erection of such a hotel as we refer to would be more than any single individual would wish to invest in such an undertaking. This is a period of "combines" and a "combine" is required to build a hotel suitable to meet the ends desired, which would rival—in its appointments if not in size—any other of the kind on the western coast. We possess all the attractions that can be expected from nature in climate, scenery and surroundings, also the capital to carry out the scheme. Those having the future welfare of not only the city but that of the country at large at heart, should combine to inaugurate a scheme to provide the city of Victoria with a hotel—such as is here advocated.

FRUIT GROWING.

The report of the "National Conference on Apples and Pears," which has just closed in connection with the Royal Horticultural Society at Cheswick, furnishes some very interesting matter for the information of intending fruit farmers here. Of late years, owing chiefly to outside competition in cereals, meat and dairy produce, and a succession of bad harvests, the attention of agriculturists in England has been directed greatly to substituting fruit growing for profit, which previously had been only practiced chiefly for amusement and the home consumption, the cities and towns relying for their supply of fruit on the foreign growers. The President of the Royal Horticultural Society, in his opening speech, referred to the increasing interest awakened in the matter of fruit growing throughout the country. There were growers who stated in their speeches that they realized £200 annually from an acre of strawberries! Yet the people were cautioned, that in the opinion of the president at best fruit growing would not provide any substantial relief to distressed agriculturalists, and examples as above stated should not be over-estimated. Growers were advised to direct their attention to the cultivation of hardy fruit. English fruit growing had, it seems, gone down to a low ebb; climatic and many other things were against it, and it is only by culture and skill that the English fruit grower will be enabled to place before the British consumer fruit in a tempting condition, that would enable them to compete with the fruit imported from other countries. Short leases and the desire of landlords to exact the last cent from the cultivator, also militates against the planting of orchards, and offers little or no inducement for the cultivator to invest his capital and labor in an undertaking which would ultimately place the results of his labor in the hands of another. This is one of the greatest drawbacks to successful fruit growing for profit in England. The demand for good tempting apples and pears is always steady. The local railway rates for distribution also is a great drawback. These obstructions are not likely, to judge from present appearances, to be speedily removed. In this province we have scarcely any of the drawbacks complained of, and rates to London are little more than to Montreal. Fruit growing for profit is bound to take a leading part in the industries of the country, and should receive immediate attention from the government and those interested.

THE CITY DUCK'S NEST.

Owing to the dual offices held by the present city treasurer, and the great drain thereby occasioned on that official's mental capacity, it is said that a deputy will shortly be called upon to fill up the vacuum. The Duck requires a mate in order to produce the supply of eggs demanded by the ratepayers, who, if they insist upon the regular quantity, will be called upon to put their hands in their pockets. So much for the omnipresent nature of the bird that sits in the nest at the City Hall, in a vain endeavor to cover the eggs of another nest over in James Bay at one and the same time. The distance is too far and will only result in the eggs of both nests producing no birds. If the bird had only one nest to look after, it might get along somehow; as it is, a mate is to be provided and the hatching is to be done by proxy.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In the year 1849 Dominick Edward Blake was head boy of Upper Canada College. The Dominick has been dropped for many years, and the great parliamentarian and lawyer has been known simply as Edward Blake.

The Hon. Edward Blake will argue before the Supreme Court at Ottawa the case of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the matter of the Red River Valley crossing as against Mr. Mowat, who holds the brief of the Red River Valley Railway, and the Province of Manitoba.

Atlanta Constitution: There are 700 men in the world worth over $5,000,000. Of these 200 reside in Great Britain, 100 in the United States, 100 in Germany and Austria, 75 in France, 50 in Russia, 50 in India, and 125 in other countries. Jay Gould is put down as the richest of all, the value of his estate being estimated at $275,000,000.

Portland Oregonian: The undergraduates of Oxford University hooted and groaned Gladstone, but there is not a crowd of young men in the United States who would hoot or groan a respectable, well-behaved statesman of any party. A stump orator is sometimes interrupted by a drunken man, but in the whole history of American politics no President or member of his cabinet was ever treated with indignity by the public.

One object of the visit of our Provincial Secretary—the virtual leader of the local government—to Ottawa, is said to be the determination of liability for the expenses incurred in the Skeena expedition. Our government contends that as the Indians, amongst whom the trouble arose, are wards of the Federal Government, and the complaints were against the Dominion and not the Provincial Government, the expense should be borne by the former. The expense of the expedition is said to be about $12,000.

A blundering clerk in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat office accepted from two strangers an advertisement in which the Democratic State ticket was praised and the Republican ticket denounced. The men bought the first page and the "ad" appeared. It produced a panic among the Republicans, and the office was flooded with orders to stop the paper. A flop was rumored and indignation meetings held. The Globe-Democrat (which is a Republican paper although its name might imply that it was Democratic) then issued an extra in which was explained how the error occurred, and swore it was still true to the Republican party.

The Premier of New South Wales has sent a cable dispatch to the Queenland agent in England, saying that the appointment of Governor Blake, of New Foundland, to the governorship of Queensland, has excited general anger and wonder. Ex-Premier Griffith agrees with the Premier in condemning the appointment. Last month the Governor urged the English Government privately to submit the name of the proposed new Governor before the appointment was made. Lord Knutsford replied that it was impossible to allow Colonial ministers to share in the responsibility for the nomination.

There is trouble in many families in New Brunswick in regard to a provincial law relating to marriage. The law requires that the clergyman performing the marriage ceremony have the following qualifications: "First, he must be a British subject; second, he must be a minister or teacher duly ordained; third, he must have charge of a congregation as their preacher, or be connected therewith." This law prevents ministers who are not British subjects, or who are not in actual charge of a congregation, from solemnizing matrimony, and it is claimed that marriages solemnized by such clergymen—and there have been many—are illegal.

CITY COUNCIL.

Meeting of Wednesday Night—Business Transacted.

The Board of Aldermen met Wednesday evening, present—Alds. Vigelius, Styles, Wilson, Kelly, Coughlan and Powell.

COMMUNINATIONS.

From Lt. Col. Holmes, C Battery, relative to the roadway to barracks. Referred to Street Committee.

From Jos. Perry, applying for permission to operate steam fire wood cutter, who claimed that it would do away with Chinese wood cutters. Permission granted.

From John Patterson, calling attention to Bridge and Henry streets. Referred to Street Committee.

From Turner, Beeton & Co., complaining of the bad condition of the crossings on Wharf street. Referred to Street Committee.

From R. P. and Catherine Medina, asking for a sidewalk on Simcoe street. Referred to Street Committee.

From Chinese firms asking for permission to lay plank walk across Fisgard street. Referred to Street committee.

From G. A. McTavish, relative to a foul drain on his property. Referred to Street Committee.

From John Sayyes, stating that a ditch near his property was blocked up. Referred to Street Committee.

From A. V. Bossi, asking for street lines, corner of Quadra and Johnson streets. Granted.

From W. Atkins, complaining of damage to his property on Dallas road. Referred to Street Committee and City Surveyor.

From John Meldrum, asking for a gutter, north side Gorge road. Referred to Street Committee.

A writ of execution, in the case of Alex. Hendry vs. Corporation, was read for the sum of $924.30. Decided to explain matters to Mr. Hendry's solicitor.

From Eberts & Taylor, reporting the street railway scheme, and suggesting some slight alterations.

Ald. Coughlan gave notice of the first reading of the Street Railway By-Law.

A free license was granted to B C. Benevolent Society for a performance at the Victoria Theatre on Thursday evening.

S. Duck, assessor and collector, called attention to the arrears of taxes on assessment roll for several years prior to 1885, amounting to over $700.

The matter was left in the hands of the Finance Committee.

Jas. A. Cohen asked for a share of the city printing. Referred to the Printing Committee.

Communications were read from several insurance agents re-renewal of insurance on City Hall. Referred to Hall Committee.

The electrician, R. B. McMicking, reported that some of the masts were in a shakey condition, and that the full number of lamps should be distributed. After some discussion the matter was referred to the Electric Light Committee.

The Street Committee reported that they had no power to change the name of upper Fort street to "Chestnut avenue." Report adopted.

Ald. Vigelius moved that the clerk be instructed to prepare voters' lists for the coming election. Seconded by Ald Kelly and carried.

Ald. Kelty asked the council to have pity "on a poor old man" and give him a bit of sidewalk near his property on Yates street. After some discussion as to who should be entitled to vote the council adjourned.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—The Chinaman is a realist. He takes his queue from nature.

—Masculine breach of promise cases will never succeed until there are female juries.

—Mrs. Barnhart, cor. Pratt and Broadway, has been a sufferer for twelve years through Rheumatism, and has tried every remedy she could hear of, but received no benefit, until recommended to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; she says she cannot express the satisfaction she feels at having her pain entirely removed and her rheumatism cured. *

—Notwithstanding the discussion now going on to decide if marriage is a failure, the brakemen go right on coupling.

—Capt. Samuel Brooks, of the steamship Arizona, has made 600 trips across the Atlantic, sailing 1,830,000 nautical miles.

—Differences of opinion regarding the popular internal and external remedy, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—do not, so far as known, exist. The testimony is positive and concurrent that the article relieves physical pain, cures lameness, checks a cough, is an excellent remedy for pains and rheumatic complaints, and it has no nauseating or other unpleasant effect when taken internally. *

—Things do not always follow as a matter of course. A man who makes puns is not a pundit; neither is one who plays in a band a bandit.

—If you want to get cold facts out of a woman contradict her and make her mad. It fetches the truth every time, but usually it isn't complimentary to you.

—FIRST RELIEF ULTIMATELY A CURE. These are the successive effects of one of the most deservedly popular remedies in the Dominion, Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, which reforms an irregular condition of the bowels and liver, invigorates the stomach, renews digestion, and changes the current of the blood from a sluggish and turbid into a pure, rapid, and fertilizing stream. *

—There is open war in Ottawa Ladies' College. The teachers refused to sit at the table with pupils, and the principal, Rev. Mr. Scott, refused to give the former any dinner. Their resignations followed.

—Mr. T. C. Berchard, public school teacher, Norland, writes: "During the fall of 1881 I was much troubled with Biliousness and Dyspepsia, and part of the time was unable to attend to the duties of my profession. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure was recommended to me, and I have much pleasure in stating that I was entirely cured by using one bottle. I have not had an attack of my old complaint since, and have gained fifteen pounds in weight." *

THE MAN OF ALMONACID.

"Your room is No. 1," dictated the officer, addressing me. "Enter."

I did so. Jock sprang up, and with his coat bristling about his neck, growled ominously at my companions. I told him to lie down.

"It is the other Englishman's dog," said one of the guards.

"Is that so?" replied the officer, glancing sharply at me. "Then how comes it in this room? But to work! Search!"

In five minutes their skillful fingers had overhauled the luggage which was lying about. They found nothing to the purpose.

"The bed," was the next command.

I do not know what seized upon me then; whether it was sheer longing to give vent to my excitement that carried me away, or the memory of Clent's words; "And men's lives they will cost," that inspired me with some spirit that certainly was not my own. I cannot say. Only I know that when the order "Now the bed" was given I sprang between it and the searchers.

"No!" I shouted, waving them back. "Wait!"

If I had a dim notion of delaying them and gaining time the attempt was as vain as it was foolish.

"Madman!" cried the leader, dropping the mask, and suddenly beside himself with rage; "stand back. Juan, Felipe, do your duty!"

I flung one from me! another! I had a moment's awful consciousness of a carbine leveled at my chest, of a finger pressing on the trigger, of a sheathed sword that struck up the weapon a second before it exploded, of the officer shouting in a voice of thunder above the tumult, "No aqui! Despues!" and then a strong arm flung me forcibly against the wall. I saw Jock leap forward, his teeth bared—saw some one fire hastily—saw the dog fall bleeding by the bed. The room grew thick with smoke.

"Oh, my God!" I cried, and covered my face. I was trembling in every limb. Some one not ungently drew the dog aside. Instinctively I knelt down and tried to stanch the blood. Poor Jock!

Presently—in the meantime I was taking no heed of their doings—I heard a cry of satisfaction and looked up. They had discovered the two rolls and bending over them as they lay on the bed were unfastening the wrappers. I went and looked on apathetically. I waited no longer with any feeling that it concerned me to see the muster rolls, and loyal autographs, and promises that were to cost so dearly, of which Clent had spoken. But what was this? The Spagnoletto! Oh, yes! I understood how that came to be here. But these—these pictures which followed! Could it be that all the subscriptions took the form of paintings? Or what was this delicate Moro, fit for a royal gallery, doing here? And that possible Murillo! That portrait which might have been by Velasquez? That San Sebastian that was at least by a pupil of Caravaggio? My head reeled. I passed my hand over my eyes and looked again. It was not a delusion. There, the canvases lay one on the other, their edges strangely rough, their corners frayed—canvases worth a king's ransom.

The other roll was full of odds and ends, valueless, but equally strange; picture backs and rough pieces of cloth and opened letters. Among these last I saw, with scarcely any added wonder, envelopes and letters directed to myself.

"I do not understand," I said feebly, looking from one guard to another. They had all turned to me to see how I took their discoveries. "He told me that he was a Carlist—a spy sent here to bribe the troops. But what are these doing here? I do not understand."

"Who told you—and what?" cried the leader.

"Clent! Clent told me—" And then I stopped dazed and bewildered. Two or three laughed; the officer, gazing fixedly at me, did not. I met his gaze vacantly; then my look wandered to the corner, and fell upon poor Jock. A mist passed from my mind; my brain cleared; I spoke aloud and sharply: "He has fooled us all!" I said, "you as well as me! I am not Clent. I am Rouse Lynton, the artist. He told me"—

"Who! who! who!" cried the officer, with fierce impatience.

"Clent, the man whom you want—the man in No. 1. He told me that he was a Carlist in danger of arrest. I gave him my passport; I took his room and be mine. What is it he has done?"

"Done!" cried the man, stamping about the room in furious rage. "Can you not see! He is a robber of museums—the captain of a gang! Dons, blockhead of an Englishman! Madre de Dios! did he not kill a civil guard at Valladolid ten months ago! He is now a German, now an Englishman. He is the devil himself, whom, for all that, we had netted finely but for you! Yet, fool that I was, I feared something when the dog obeyed you."

I remembered that I had read in the English newspapers of picture robberies in various parts of Spain, in which it was supposed that a German was engaged. By this light I understood it all. The man's terror when I discovered him gloating over the Spagnoletto which had been stolen from a monastery at Seville; his letters from distant dealers; his studied appeal to my sympathies; his greedy reluctance, which I had thought pure unselfishness, to part with his spoils; even the casual "job" which had made him master of my £30! I understood them now. Yes, had this been all—had Jock not been lying bleeding in a corner—I would have let the man go. As it was, I cried out to them, "Quick! I will tell you where you will find him! He will make for Almonacid. You know the place?"

"Did he tell you that also?" asked the officer scornfully.

"No," I exclaimed, "I had it from one of his gang in the street—one who took me for him as you did. Almonacid is their rendezvous. You are watching the railway station here! Yes. Then be sure he will make across country for Almonacid, which is only a mile from Torrijos station on the other railway."

There was sense in my words, and the police saw it. The ring of scowling faces round me brightened. A few hasty sentences were exchanged, and an order was curtly given, and in two minutes the officer and his following trooped down stairs, no doubt to get to horse and start after the fugitives, leaving me in charge of a couple of town police, who good naturedly helped me to do what I could for Jock. Jock was not dead, nor going to die, I am glad to say, of that wound, although he walks lame to this day, the bullet having cut the tendons at the root of the fore leg.

When I found that this was so, I began to be sorry that I had betrayed Clent's trust, though in fact he had never trusted me. "I wish that I had not spoken so soon," I said to one of my guards as we sat over the brasero, wondering what was doing at Almonacid.

"It is ill work standing behind a kicking mule," he answered dryly.

"But second thoughts are best."

He considered this; then said briefly: "The last orange the frost nips."

The full meaning of which only came home to me next morning. About 10 o'clock the officer of police came clattering up the stairs to discharge me from custody. He told me politely that owing to the amends I had made no notice would be taken of my vain attempt to mislead justice.

"Vain attempt! Vain! Then you have captured him?"

"No, senor."

"No! He has escaped!" I cried in astonishment.

"Hardly; he tried," replied the Spaniard, meeting my eyes with a smile. "He was shot in the scuffle."

"Dead!" I said faintly.

"Yes, senor, quite dead."

Then I knew for certain what the words, No aqui! Despues! ("Not here! Afterward!") had meant. And I shivered.

PROLOGUE.

WRITTEN FOR A THEATRICAL BENEFIT PROPOSED FOR WILLIAM DIETZ, THE PIONEER OF CARIBOO GOLD FIELDS.

As in the days of old so is it now,
Not for themselves the patient oxen plough,
Great benefactors bear the toil and pain,
While other men inherit all the gain.
Bold Pioneers who pierce the wilderness,
Through pathless woods, with labor and distress,
Drenched with the rain, or numbed with bitter frost;
Now in the rapid river's surges tost;
Now in the blinding snowstorm wandering lost;
Climbing the mountains, or descending low
The rocky gorges—onward still they go
Undaunted, through extremes of heat and cold,
Prospecting, till they strike the yellow gold.
Enriching thousands, and the barren fame
Their sole reward—to give the place a name.
Thus William Dietz, (in whose behalf I speak)
Is hailed discoverer of Williams Creek—
Look on your thriving city, growing fast,
Then think of all the toil through which he past,
To delve beneath the streams of Cariboo
Unearthing wealth to cheer and comfort you.
Oh! Let poor William share the comfort too!
Broken with toil, and racked with cruel pain,
His weary feet have brought him home again
To seek a refuge—sick—distrest and poor—
Oh, brothers! Friends! Let him not wander more.
Ye generous miners, earn yourselves the praise
Of cheering William Dietz' declining days.
To think, when sitting by your snug fireside,
Feasted and full, that he, neglected, died,
Will make you blush with unavailing shame,
And poison all your pleasure, when that name
Hereafter shall be spoken—when men say:
"After a life of toil he made his way
Into Victoria—through each thronged street
He dragged his wasted form on crippled feet.
With evidence of wealth on every side,
Fruit of the labors his young strength supplied;
Perhaps a proud emotion stirred his heart,
'Of all this glory I'm the greater part.'
Too busy with their stores and crowded wharves,
His toil enriched them—and they let him starve."
It must not be! No, by your glistening eyes,
Brimming with tears of pity and surprise,
I feel it will not be—each noble heart
Is stirred to charity, and I, assured, depart.

VANCOUVER NEWS.

The City's Religious Zeal—School Matters—For the Orient.

[From our own Correspondent.]

Vancouver, Nov. 14—Mr. Robert Grant has commenced work on the ground between the Hudson Bay store and Mr. Cowderoy's, Cordova street, where he intends to erect a brick block 49 feet frontage and two storeys high. The ground floor will contain two stores and the upper flat will be divided into rooms. Mr. Grant, who is a shrewd business man, thus evinces his unfaltering faith in the stability and future greatness of Vancouver. Already he has had a host of applicants for the stores.

The nomination of Mayor and Aldermen for this city will take place on Monday, December 3rd.

Yesterday morning the tug Pioneer towed the ship Southern Chief into port to load lumber at the Moodyville Mills, but as there were a number of ships awaiting cargoes there already she was in the afternoon towed to the Hastings Mill where she will load.

At 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon the steamship Abyssinia steamed out of the harbor for the Orient. Her cargo consisted of 753 tons of flour for Hongkong and 87 tons of general merchandise. She had on board 200 Chinese in the steerage, three second class and 16 cabin passengers as follows: Mr and Mrs A H Rennie, H M Arnold, J S Gale, Miss E McGregor, Robt Harkness and wife, Dr Granville Sharp, Mrs Sharp, Mr Rain, Master Sutton, Miss H F Nickerson, Right Rev Bishop of Japan, Rev A P King, Miss Snowden, Miss Hartley and Miss Birkenhead.

Mr. C. D. Rand, our most enterprising real estate agent, has gone to New Westminster to ratify the most important and we have reason to hope the most successful agreement which he has negotiated. His many friends wish him every happiness and success in his solemn undertaking and will be prepared to welcome him as cordially as ever on his return, even though he has renounced his allegiance to the state of bachelordom.

Vancouver, November 15—To-day is Thanksgiving and truly nature has been most benign in favoring us with such a day as should call forth from the heart of every citizen a full and hearty tribute of thanks, not only for the blessings of the past but for the enjoyment of the present and the prospect and assurance of a bountiful future. Most of the business houses are closed and the day which has been so appropriately set apart is being well observed. Divine service was held this morning by the various congregations and a goodly number assembled to offer up their devotions.

There are at present a large number of brick and wooden buildings in course of erection, and if this fine weather continues it will prove a boon to the contractors and a general benefit to the town, as there are not a few of the working classes who have been deferring the building of residences for themselves until the last of the season and are now watching every favorable opportunity.

The fires of religious zeal that were kindled during Mr. Moody's campaign are still burning briskly in this city, and extending their glow into the dark and dismal portions of the city. During this week a most interesting evangelical service has been carried on among the Chinese of Dupont street, and the efforts of Ch'an Sing Kai, a native Chinese Christian missionary, who is nobly seconded by the Rev. E. Robson and Messrs. Cum Yow and Kim, the latter a wealthy San Francisco Chinese merchant, are being much appreciated by his benighted countrymen, who gather in large crowds to hear their enlightened brother discourse on the theme of the unbounded love of Christ for fallen and sinful humanity. Ch'an Sing Kai with his wife, daughter and two sons, has taken up his abode in Vancouver and intends to continue the work so well begun under the auspices of the Missionary Society, and which paid $250 to secure a foothold in the province for the missionary and his family. Mr. Kim is one of the many important Chinese who had to suffer from the effect of the Chinese exclusion bill. Although eligible to enter the United States himself, he could not take with him his wife whom he brought from China on the Abyssinia and who was denied the right to land at Port Townsend. So they came to Vancouver. At present negotiations are going on which it is expected will ultimately result in the admission of the parties into their adopted country.

Not a little dissatisfaction is being expressed by some of the parents who are compelled by the late division of the city into school districts, to send their children to the west end school when they desire to have them attend the east as before. They claim that the law has been violated by permitting certain ones to continue while others have been denied the privilege. It is a very difficult matter to make a change of this kind without giving dissatisfaction to some, and it is hard to lay down a law admitting of no inflections.

The semi-annual examination of applicants for entrance to high school will be held in this city on the 28th inst. The general expression of opinion in regard to the examination is that it is too early, and that it is but a scheme of the government to further handicap this city from qualifying for a high school. Not content with passing an act requiring the presence of 20 qualified candidates, which is difficult to acquire in one year, they further blight their prospects by calling the examination early in the season.

Members of the Episcopal church residing in the west end of the city have taken steps to secure temporary accommodation for holding services while their new church is being erected. The Rev. H. Hobson is expected to arrive shortly to take charge of the second congregation which will be distinguished from the first as being Low church.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Cable and American Dispatches—Interesting Items.

London, Nov. 15—The Canadian Gazette states that it is believed in view of the action of the Republicans during the campaign, that General Harrison and his friends will regard hostility towards Canada as harmful to the best interests of the States. It is generally expected now that the President will take an early occasion to resume and complete the negotiations for a friendly settlement of all open questions between the two countries.

APPOINTMENT CANCELLED.

London, Nov. 16—It is believed that the Government has decided to cancel the appointment of Governor Blake of Newfoundland to the Governorship of Queensland in deference to the opposition manifested thereto.

MR. MATTHEWS LIKELY TO RESIGN

London, Nov. 15—The debate on the Police Estimates in the House of Commons to day was very exciting and was prolonged until Mr. Smith came to the rescue of his colleagues by moving the closure. The Radicals fought the appropriation tooth and nail and in the discussion the Home Secretary, Mr. Matthews, was, rhetorically, very roughly handled. It is now concluded on all sides that it is merely a question of weeks, a very few of them at that, when Mr. Matthews will be forced to resign and the friends of Sir Charles Warren are consequently pleased.

MR. PHELPS AT GLASGOW.

Glasgow, Nov. 15—The United States Minister, Mr. Phelps, was enthusiastically cheered at a banquet given in his honor by the Glasgow corporation to-night. In response to the toast to the guest of the evening, he said that so long as Scotland sent to America the kind of men she had hitherto sent, the doors of the country would swing on their hinges to receive them from Maine to California. America, he said, was now more particular than she had been, and did not intend to be contaminated with the leprosy of Asia or the offscourings of Europe.

KANSAS THE BANNER STATE.

Topeka, Nov. 15—Official returns from all but 15 counties have been received. These, with unofficial figures from the 15 counties which have not yet reported, places the Republican plurality at 82,000, making Kansas the banner Republican State of the Union.

THE WHITE PASHA.

Cairo, Nov. 15—Messengers who have arrived at Wady Halfa report that the mysterious white pasha in the Bahreel Gazeel district has fought a great battle and killed many.

"Schenck on Poker."

The British representative at Washington can take the comforting assurance to his heart that he is not the only minister who has been laughed at. It is only a few years ago since all America was shaking its sides over the way American Minister Schenck put his foot in it by a very simple act while representing the United States Government at the Court of St. James. Like most Americans Mr. Schenck was fond of a game called poker, in which some of his friends in London soon began to take an interest. The ladies also got in the way of taking a hand in the game and one of them asked Mr. Schenck to write out for her own use a few rules as to the correct way to play it. To oblige her Mr. Schenck did so, setting forth the relative values of the various hands, explaining the meaning of technical terms employed in the game and giving full instructions in regard to the course to be pursued in dealing with something called "jack-pots," whatever jack-pots may be. The lady for whom the rules were written loaned them to a neighbor, they fell into the hands of another, who for greater convenience got them printed; the book publishers got hold of them, and before Mr. Schenck knew where he was the world was staring at him in surprise; the American Minister to the Court of St. James, the Author of a book on "How to play Poker, with the treatise on Jack Pots!" Poor Mr. Schenck made all sorts of explanations of course, and the more he explained the more everybody laughed, and to this day "Schenck on Poker," is one of the standard works in diplomatists' libraries.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of tubercle germs into the system and when these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief. *

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

The Artillery Practice—Negligence of Officers.

Our volunteers get little encouragement from their officers. The men were drilling for the past six weeks for shot and shell competition, and twelve hours before the firing they are told, or in a great many cases left to find out for themselves, that the competition is off, because the greatly "interested" officers do not know enough about their duty to requisition for the ammunition. We have heard that the ammunition was requisitioned for on Wednesday last at about 9 a. m., thus giving the caretaker about six hours to fill 120 shells, the same number of cartridges, and get them out to the battery. Does it not show how much consideration our officers have for their men when they spoil one of the few holidays they do get in the year, and then put it all on to red tape in the department, etc., and then they go about complaining that they cannot get recruits to join their ranks and thus those they have enrolled do not take any interest in the drill. When the officers will learn to consider their men before themselves and will inform themselves of their duty to them and their corps, they may expect to make a success of the regiment.

AN EMBEZZLER ARRIVES.

F. E. Simpson the Tacoma Embezzler Spends a Day in Victoria.

It is reported that Fred E. Simpson, the absconding clerk of the Northern Pacific Express office in Tacoma, who is referred to elsewhere, arrived in this city on Tuesday night by the Sound steamer. He registered at the Clarence hotel as J. R. Johnson, of Los Angeles, Cal., and remained till Thursday night, when he left for the mainland. On his arrival at the hotel he handed over a weighty little satchel to the clerk to lock in the safe for him, and which is now supposed to contain the $10,000 package that he got away with. Two detectives are now on his track.

REQUIESCAT IN PACE.

Reception of the Body of the Late Archbishop Seghers from U.S. Gunboat Thetis.

A History of His Murder—Last Days on Earth—Imposing Funeral Ceremony.

"Adieu, I leave for Alaska, and God knows when or whether I shall return. Pray for me."

At 7:30 o'clock last Wednesday morning the U. S. war ship Thetis arrived at Esquimalt with the mortal remains of the late Most Rev. Charles John Seghers, D. D., late Archbishop of Vancouver Island and Alaska. Many of our readers are aware of the tragic death of the most respected prelate and a brief history of his life will be read with interest. The most Rev. Charles John Seghers, D. D., was born at Ghent, Belgium, on Dec. 26, 1839. In his early youth he displayed a studious disposition and was filled with a great desire to take holy orders. His career at the University of Louvain was one marked by all the professors and on the 30th of May, 1863, he was ordained at Mechlin. In the latter part of that year he sailed for the Pacific coast and arrived in Victoria in November, 1863. He labored most assiduously in the Diocese of Victoria for several years and Father Seghers was looked upon by the people of British Columbia, irrespective of nationality, color or creed as a paragon of religious zeal and a most worthy and learned teacher of the Word of God. In 1869 the deceased prelate accompanied the late Bishop Demers to Rome, attending the Œcumenical Council as theologian with his respected bishop. Returning in 1870 he was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs and was almost at death's door when the demise of Bishop Demers occurred. He gradually recovered and was selected by His Holiness Pope Pius the IXth as Bishop of Vancouver Island. On June 29th, 1883, the consecration took place in the R. C. Cathedral on Humboldt street. Immediately after the consecration ceremonies the young prelate commenced his arduous duties, devoting himself assiduously to the labors borne only by that noble army of saintly men whose entire lives are passed amidst the semi-civilized nations spreading and explaining the truths of God's holy word. In 1874 he visited the west coast of Vancouver Island, founding several important missions. In 1877 Bishop Seghers left for Alaska and whitered in that desolate country which was eventually to become the scene of his assassination. Returning to Victoria in 1878 he received a most cordial reception and was applauded of his appointment as Archbishop of Emesa and coadjutor to the Archbishop of Oregon on December 10th, 1878. On December 10th, 1880, he was appointed Archbishop of Oregon. In 1883 the deceased prelate was called to Rome and resigned the Portland See to again return to watch over the spiritual welfare of his flock in Vancouver Island and Alaska. On March 7th, 1884, the re-appointment to the See of Vancouver Island took place, and on the 30th May, His Grace was invested with the Pallium. The pleasing duty of placing this insigna on the shoulders of the respected Archbishop was witnessed by a large concourse of prelates, clergy and laity. Archbishop Gross, of Oregon, officiated. On July 13th, 1886, the honored prelate took his departure for the scene of his

LAST LABORS ON EARTH.

The clergy and a large number of prominent citizens were present when their beloved chief pastor sailed away for the impenetrable wilds of the Arctic circle. Few amongst that large assemblage thought that they were viewing for the last time the pleasant features of one they had learned to love and honor so well and that never again would he impart to them kind words of wisdom and heavenly counsel. His last farewell words were: "ADIEU, I LEAVE FOR ALASKA, AND GOD KNOWS WHEN OR WHETHER I SHALL RETURN. PRAY FOR ME."

THE ASSASSINATION.

After leaving Victoria a few letters reached the clergy from the banks of the Yukon. Time passed and the year glided away without news of the devoted prelate. Another year, 1887, was ushered in and no news arrived. On the 17th July, 1887 Father Tossi arrived in San Francisco with the sorrowful news that Archbishop Seghers was assassinated on the banks of the Yukon, near Nulato, Alaska Territory, on Nov. 28th, 1886. The scene of the murder is about 500 miles from the mouth of the Yukon and fully 60 miles from any human habitation. The murderer, Frank Fuller, was tried at Sitka on Nov. 14th and was convicted of manslaughter. He is serving a sentence of imprisonment for ten years at McNeill's Island. The remains were arranged by the Indian attendants and taken to Noulata. The body was temporarily buried at Fort St. Michael on July 6th, and disinterred on September 11th, arriving as before stated on Wednesday morning.

THE LANDING.

At 9 o'clock on Thursday morning Their Lordships Bishops Lemmens and Brondell proceeded to Esquimalt to receive and convey the remains to the residence of the clergy. Among the clergy present were Fathers Mandart, VanNevel, Doneckele, Durand, Brabant and Laterme. A committee of the congregation were also present, consisting of, Messrs. McAuley, E. A. McQuade, Theo. Davie, A. Gabriel, D. F. Fee, Jr., T. J. Burnes and T. Deasy. After arriving at Foster's pier the party stepped into a steam launch and were conveyed on board the U. S. war steamer Thetis. Lieut. Commander Emory, Ensigns R. F. Lopez, E. Simpson, M. C. Gorges, R. Wallis, Chief Engineer John Lowe, Surgeon D. N. Bertolette and Assistant Paymaster J. Q. Lovell with Judge Johnson, of Ounalaska, met the party on the quarter deck. Col. Stevens U. S. Consul and Edgar Marvin, U. S. Vice Consul were also present. The sad party then knelt on the deck and His Lordship, Bishop Lemmens, delivered a short prayer. The occasion was most solemn, and as the words were spoken in a tremulous voice by His Lordship a feeling of sadness prevaded the whole of the assemblage on the war ship. At the conclusion of the ceremony the party were invited to Capt. Emory's cabin where the following engrossed address was read and presented by Mr. Tho. Davie:

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 15, 1888.

To W. H. Emory, Lieutenant Commander, United States Navy, Commanding U. S. S. "Thetis."

DEAR SIR,—It becomes our pleasing duty to convey to you the warmest thanks of the clergy and people of the Diocese of Vancouver Island for the Christian kindness and noble courtesy displayed by you in bringing the mortal remains of our beloved prelate, the late Archbishop Seghers, from a desolate wild upwards of 2,000 miles away, to their final resting place in this, the home of His Grace, and of his faithful flock.

On the 28th of the present month two years will have elapsed since our beloved Archbishop whilst engaged amidst toil and privation, in spreading our Divine Saviour's gospel among the heathen, was struck down by the assassin's hand. And although his loss has been the occasion of deepest sorrow, our grief has been tempered with gladness at the thought of the martyr's crown which he has gone to enjoy.

We have been long disappointed in our desire of having the honored remains brought here for interment, and now, when all that is mortal of our chief pastor is restored to us, we cannot sufficiently express our esteem for yourself, by whose efforts this great service has been accomplished, nor can we allow the occasion to pass without expressing our regard for the great nation whose officer you are.

We beg to present you with His Grace's likeness noted with the dates of his birth, career, and tragic end; and we pray that in reward for the gracious act which calls forth our thankfulness, God's blessing may be upon your undertakings and that you may be granted long life, honor and promotion in your country's service.

We have the honor to subscribe ourselves on behalf of the clergy and people.

Your grateful servants,

[Signed] J. N. LEMMENS,
Bishop of Vancouver Island.

For the committee:
[Signed] THEODORE DAVIE, Sec.

Accompanying the address was a beautiful picture of the late Archbishop in an appropriate frame.

Capt Emory thanked the clergy and congregation in a short feeling speech.

Judge Johnson, of Ounalaska, then handed to His Lordship the personal effects of the deceased, including a diary, the gold watch, seal and ring, a number of coins and nearly all the valuable effects of the late Archbishop. Mr. Johnston was thanked most heartily for his kindness. The remains were then raised from the deck and lowered into one of the ship's cutters. The clergy and committee were then taken on board the steam launch which was made fast to the cutter. The captain's gig fell in behind the cutter and the boats started for the shore. As the remains left the side of the vessel the stars and stripes were placed at half-mast. Steaming slowly past H. M. S. Espeigle a most imposing sight was presented. The British ensign was lowered to half-mast and a detachment of marines stood on the quarter-deck presenting arms. The bugle sounded and the three boats belonging the Thetis passed silently on to the wharf, each boat with the stars and stripes at half-mast. The bell on board the Thetis was kept tolling mournfully and as the party left the boats it was remarked that the representatives of the two greatest English speaking nations on earth were paying a never to be forgotten mark of respect to the remains of a martyred soldier of the cross. Flags in the naval yard, on board the steamer Ancon and throughout Esquimalt floated at half mast and a large gathering of the community met the party at the landing. Six seamen conveyed the remains to a hearse and the procession started for this city, the bell over the R. C. Church tolling as the cortege passed.

On arriving at the residence of the clergy the casket containing the remains was placed on a catafalque surronded by lighted tapers. The residence was draped throughout in deep mourning and prayers for the dead were chanted by the clergy. At the head of the casket stood the wooden cross which was placed over the grave at St. Michaels. It bears the following inscription:

HERE REST
RIGHT REV. ARCHBISHOP CHARLES SEGHERS,
BISHOP OF VICTORIA.
DIED A. D. 1886.

The rude cross was hewen from a cypress tree and three floral offerings still remain on the metal casket, placed there by loving hands in the far northern regions. Vespers for the dead were celebrated at 7:30 o'clock last night in the R. C. pro-Cathedral on View street.

THE FUNERAL.

At nine o'clock this morning the last sad rites were administered.

The remains were placed in a beautiful inlaid casket, mounted with silver, which was borne from the residence by eight pall-bearers. The following was the order of the procession: Priest with a large cross, Acyotes with censors; Priests and Bishops in full canonicals; Archbishop Gross; the hearse, Chief Mourners; Sisters of Charity and school children; congregation and friends. The route taken was along Yates, Douglas and View streets. Arriving at the pro-Cathedral the casket was borne up the aisle to the communion rail, where they were deposited on a raised dias. The church was draped throughout and the lights of wax tapers cast a sombre light o'er the mournful scene. Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated by Archbishop Gross, of Portland, Oregon. The following prelates and clergy assisted at the mass: Assistant Priest, Father Mandart; Deacons of Honor, Fathers Rondesult and Brabant; Deacon of the Mass, Father Manioulouz, of Port Townsend; Sub-Deacon of the Mass, Father Laterme; Master of Ceremonies, Father J. A. Van Nevel; Acolytes, Bros. Walsh and Gorman, O. M. I. Bishop Durieux, of New Westminster, was assisted by Father Donckele, of Cowichan; Bishop Junger, of Vancouver, W. T., was assisted by Father Durand; Father Sorby assisted Bishop Brondel, whist Father Fay, of Vancouver, assisted Bishop Lemmens, of Vancouver Island. At the conclusion of the imposing ceremony His Lordship Bishop Brondel ascended the pulpit and delivered a funeral oration which brought tears to the eyes of the large assemblage. The address was a true delineation of the life and Christian virtues of the honored dead, delivered by one who spent many years in the same university and whose heart was filled with woe at the loss of his beloved friend and brother prelate. At the conclusion of the ceremonies in the pro-Cathedral the remains were conveyed to the vault beneath and the last sad rites administered.

A memorial card bearing a likeness of the late Archbishop was presented to the congregation. The card bears the following inscription: "Remember your prelates who have spoken to you the word of God; considering well the end of their conversation, imitate their faith.—Hebrews xiii. 7." "Pray for the repose of the soul of Most Rev. Chas. J. Seghers, D.D., Archbishop of Vancouver Island. Born at Ghent, Belgium, 26th of Dec. 1839; ordained at Mechlin 30th of May, 1863; consecrated Bishop of Vancouver Island at Victoria, B. C., 29th of June 1873; appointed Archbishop of Emesa i. p. i. and co-adjutor to the Archbishop of Oregon, 10th Dec. 1878, Archbishop of Oregon, 10th Dec., 1880; re-appointed to the See of Vancouver Island, 7th March 1884; assassinated on the banks of the Yukon, near Nulato, A. T., 28th Nov. 1886; temporarily buried at Fort St. Michael 6th July, 1887; disinterred and taken aboard United States steamer Thetis 11th Sept. 1888. Buried at Victoria, B. C., November 16th, 1888. The Archbishop's last farewell: Adieu, I leave for Alaska, and God knows when or whether I shall return. Pray for me. Requiescat in Pace." The chief mourners at the funeral were: Lieut-Commander Emory, of U. S. S. Thetis; Judge Johnston, of Ounalaska; E A McQuade, D Mills, Theo Davie, Q C; J Sohl and Mr McAuley. The pall-bearers were Daniel McPhee, D F Fee jr, M McTiernan, Alex McDonald, J T Fee, A A McDonald, T Dougherty and Thomas Deasy.

The remains were examined last night by Drs. J. D. and J. S. Helmcken. They were found to be in a good state of preservation although the features were unrecognizable. A post mortem examination revealed the fact that the cause of death was a bullet wound in the left breast above the heart. It will be remembered that the Indian witnesses stated that the late Archbishop was shot through the head. The murderer said the wound was in the body. The post mortem proves the truth of Fuller's statement.

NEW WESTMINSTER.

The Assizes—Marriage of Mr. C. H. Rand and Miss Clute.

(Special to THE TIMES.)

New Westminster, Nov. 16.—The assizes opened on Wednesday the 14th. The court was occupied the remaining portion of the day with the case of Rogeva vs. Frank Donahue. The prisoner was charged with forging and uttering two bills at Vancouver in September last. One bill was raised from a $2 to $20; the other from $1 to $10 by adding ciphers. The principal evidence, that of a man named Isaac and his daughter, was strong against the prisoner. Isaac kept the court convulsed by shrewd and witty remarks at times, being more than a match for the learned counsel. His Lordship in charging the jury said that the evidence was conclusive of the prisoner's guilt of the utterance. The jury retired, in 30 minutes and returned a verdict of guilty of utterance. The case was deferred. The grand jury found true bills in the following cases: Cotea, manslaughter; Jones, murder; Hen Cook, murder; Kane, attempt to rob. Court then adjourned until 11 o'clock on Friday.

The Marriage of Miss Kate Gunivere Clute, daughter of J. S. Clute, Collector of Customs, to C. D. Rand, of Vancouver, took place in St. Andrews Church in this city yesterday, Rev. Thos. Scoullar performing the ceremony.

The thermometer to-day registered 47 in the sun, heavy hard frost and a cloudless sky.

The court re-assembled to-day at 10 o'clock. The first case called was that of Johnny and Munday, charged with larceny at Ladner's Landing. The evidence produced was clean and corroborated by witnesses other than the prosecution, and seemed to prove the case. Practically there has been no defense as yet. To the astonishment of every person in the court room including the prisoners themselves, the jury unhesitatingly acquitted them. The prisoners were remanded back to jail and will probably be retried on the second count of the indictment.

NANAIMO VS. VICTORIA.

The Football Match Yesterday at Nanaimo.

A gifted correspondent sends the following account of the game: Leaving Nanaimo on a bus (that was "bogged" several times on its way to the "grounds") we reached the vicinity of the field of play after half an hour's severe jolting. The last few hundred yards had to be done on foot, as the road was simply a beaten path through a quagmire. On one side of the field, within a couple of yards of touch line was a regular swamp or bog, the depth of which no one seemed brave to probe, while at one end, close behind the goal posts, was a yawning ditch of stygian darkness and unknown depth. The whole field was simply an elevated piece of bog land, that shook and trembled to the tread, the higher knolls being covered with snow, and was about 25 yards short of the regulation length. At 2 o'clock Drake "kicked off" for Victoria, and for the first 25 minutes no advantage was gained by either side, the game being purely a "forward" one, and the "backs" doing little or nothing. Towards the end of half time the ball was "heeled out" to the Victoria "backs" but they failing to return it, the "Rovers" forced the "Victoria" down on their own line and shortly after secured a "try," the first point of the game. The kick for goal, was, so far as we could see, outside the post; but to the astonishment of everyone the referee declared it to be a goal for the Rovers. Shortly after time was called. In the second half the Victoria backs seemed completely demoralized; the result being two more "trys" for the Rovers, from one of which a goal was fairly kicked. At the call of time the score stood, 2 goals and a try to nothing in favor of the Nanaimo Rovers. A word of advice and criticism may be permitted from an old player and still enthusiastic observer of the game. Victoria forwards were all that could be desired in the "scrimmages," the only fault possible to find with them being that they did not "heel out" often enough to their "backs;" but in Thursday's game this was excusable, for each time the ball was "heeled out," the "backs" failed to do their duty, and it almost always resulted to the benefit of their opponents, while so long as they kept it among themselves, the game was comparatively safe. Now for the "Backs," and I hope they will take my advice in good part, and be fair enough to admit the truth of my remarks, and it may help them in the future. The three quarter backs have the most responsible position on the field, and should be powerful, speedy men (if possible) and sure "Tacklers." It is to them that the defeat of Thursday is mainly to be attributed. Such a thing as "hand-ball" and "fumbling" should not be known amongst them. The full back before half time played a good game, and a couple of players of his stamp behind the scrimmage would have saved the day. The "half-backs" did as well as could be expected from anyone on such ground. Trusting that the Victoria boys may reverse the order of things on a future date, and feeling sure that they possess the power to do so, if properly utilized, I am, etc. AN OBSERVER.

Thanksgiving Day.

The day was duly observed in the city. Services were held in the Reformed Episcopal Church, First Presbyterian Church and St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Some spent the day by taking a trip to Nanaimo, some went shooting and the majority remained at home.
